evenings too. The ladies tell me when winter comes I will not see him from nine in the morning till eleven at night- but I guess they are talking for effect. The training here is fine and the other men are congenial and helpful.

Maude must be having a good Mother visit.. I don't get homesick at all, but I wish I was nearer home sometimes. I am very glad we came here however.

With love to you both from both of us.-
Will forget to write next

My dear Maude and Lewis.

This letter came to Alvin a few days ago. I know you will be interested in it so I send it on. I hope you will write to your missionary Lewis.

We are both well and enjoying life- The town continues lovely and the weather is sunny once in a while. It has been cool except for two wks when you doubtless read of the "heated term" in New York City and the east.

A long letter from Nan just now received with the circular letter from the ten girls who roomed at Grandpa's the winter he died. They have done pretty well to keep it floating all this time.

Mother and the girls were well the last news. Jessie and Katie had been at Ottawa assembly for a wk's outing and Mother and Little Sis had kept house for Sam.

Alvin is umpiring a tennis game this afternoon. He enjoys playing very much. The gen. secy. is away a good deal of the time. Just at present he is with the Pa. N. G. conducting a Y.M.C.A. tent in their summer camp. It doesn't leave Alvin much time as he has to be at the rooms
